THE INITIATIVE

The Artisan Awards is a triumph of artistry, innovation, and individuality in the jewellery industry. The annual competition held by GJEPC elevates jewellery designers to their rightful status, as artists. Now in its fifth year running, The Artisan has become a prestigious honour for excellence in jewellery design among the global community. It inspires the country's and the world's finest jewellery designers to push their boundaries and raise their game by showcasing world-class pieces.

The 2022 theme "The Collectors" encouraged competitors to conceive of jewellery befitting three influential jewellery connoisseurs—Elizabeth Taylor, Barbara Hutton and Wallis Simpson. The challenging theme nudged designers from their comfort zones and forced them to think up creative interpretations for these style icons of yesteryear.

— JEWELLERY DESIGN AWARDS 2022 —

COLIN SHAH
CHAIRMAN, GJEPC

I'd like to extend my gratitude to the esteemed jury for their time and valuable inputs in evaluating the entries of The Artisan Awards 2022.

This time, too, we received an overwhelming response despite the tough theme of styling the three famous style icons of yesteryear whose jewellery collections were unparalleled.

The participants used their imagination to reinterpret designs that these divas would have appreciated, had they been among us.

Their legacies continue to live on even today and through The Artisan we decided to tackle a bold new idea and push the design envelope.

Through The Artisan Awards, the GJEPC has been encouraging designers to think fearlessly and shape the future of design with unbridled creativity. The Council has also been nurturing the winning designers by providing them international exposure and intern with leading designers abroad.

The Awards is one of the main initiatives to spotlight India's design prowess and position the country as one of the main design destinations for jewellery.

VIPUL SHAH
VICE CHAIRMAN, GJEPC

We are proud of The Artisan Awards' legacy to showcase the best in terms of jewellery design and innovation not only in India, but across the world.

Ever since the inception of The Artisan, we have witnessed a wave of fresh talent knocking on the industry's doors. Each year, the entries raise the bar for the subsequent editions.

The Artisan complete five years, and I believe these awards have gained recognition and credibility because of the fair judging and evaluation process, thus making the competition more trustworthy and coveted.

CONVENER, PROMOTIONS, MARKETING &
BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT, GJEPC

This year, for The Artisan theme, we chose to be different and difficult, to see if the participants were up to the challenge. And they defied expectations.

The Collectors is a theme that dares designers to think uniquely. Styling the three icons was not an easy task, especially since the divas were jewellery collectors with an exceptional eye for design and detail.

To conceptualise sophisticated creations, one requires the ability to have design empathy to visualise concepts that were in alignment with the aesthetics of these divas.

The Artisan Awards is the only platform in the country which allows young talent to unleash their creative ambitions in their chosen field. Year after year, we have witnessed extraordinary designs that are relevant to the challenging themes that we put up. And each time, we have been surprised by the entries that surpass our expectations, thus underscoring the level of talent this industry possesses. With many more seasons still to come, The Artisan is well on its way to becoming a hallmark for ground-breaking thinking in the jewellery space and we, at GJEPC, really look forward to the same.

the 2022 Theme COLLECTORS

Women with incredible style, punch-you-in-the-face attitude, tumultuous lives, and, an insatiable hunger for beautiful, one-of-a-kind, signature jewels. The gems and baubles they painstakingly collected over their lifetimes each have their individual stories to tell; immensely covetable to date, auctioned off at unheard-of prices and consistently making headlines of their own. This era of women may have sadly ended decades ago, but their legacies live on.

For the Artisan Awards 2022, we need you to create a piece of jewellery for any of these collectors. Visualize these women as they would have been in their prime – the way they dressed then, their personal style, the kind of jewels they wore, the attitude they projected – and come up with a winner that these icons would wear if they were alive and at their peak today.

BARBARA HUTTON | ELIZABETH TAYLOR | WALLIS SIMPSON

ELIZABETH TAYLOR

Elizabeth Taylor's mesmerising beauty, her mastery over her acting craft, her penchant for marriage ... and of course, her insatiable appetite for amassing an array of bejewelled and ornate pieces ... that in a nutshell characterised Liz Taylor.

"I feel as though I'm only the custodian of my jewellery," she remarked in her book Elizabeth Taylor: My Love Affair With Jewelry. "When I die and they go off to auction, I hope whoever buys them gives them a really good home."

KEY WORDS FOR THIS ICON WERE

GLAMOUR | RED-CARPET | LARGER-THAN-LIFE
BOLD | COLOURFUL

The arresting Feryall pendant edged with baguette emeralds is dedicated to the charismatic Hollywood icon Liz Taylor. Fashioned out of custom-cut rock crystal, the octagon pendant gives a nod to the Art Deco period. The brooch focuses on a large emerald with a surround of baguette diamond rays and is further embellished with bezel-set round and pear-cut diamonds.

Manufactured by Tara Fine Jewels

Nature is expressed vividly in this interchangeable organic brooch-cum-pendant titled Mirabelle. Crafted with 'buttery' yellow gold, the hyper realistic rendition of sparrows resting on the branches symbolise community living and empowerment. The birds are articulated with brilliant-cut diamonds, while cabochon rubies and pear-cut and cabochon emeralds represent ripened fruits.

1st RUNNER UP

Valerie – the Survivor's Medal is a homage to the iconic beauty. Since brilliant link chains are a symbol of wealth and status, Valerie's design element focuses on a handmade chain interlocked with oval and round links peppered with diamonds. The round, sleek pendant outfitted with an opal is encircled with diamonds to a concave surface that reflects the colour of the centre stone on the yellow metal. True to her strong personality as noticeable through the unbreakable link chains, her resonating words, "I'm a survivor" are engraved on the reverse of the pendant decorated with rubies set in a net-like structure. The modular chain can also be wrapped around the wrist that locks up with a T-bar, while the pendant serves as a charm.

The dressy ear cuffs in white gold draw inspiration from the headdress the violet-eyed star wore in the film Boom. The earrings centred on cabochon amethysts spread out gracefully in spirals decorated with fancy-cut diamonds and pearls.

Designed by Khushali Desai
Manufactured by EON Jewellery

The majestic dangles in yellow gold perfectly complement Liz, the jewellery connoisseur! Titled Wings of Desire, the earrings are inspired by her role in and as Cleopatra. They feature textured eagle wings, glamorised with faceted emeralds, amethyst, and diamonds.

Designed by Aslam Ali Khan
Manufactured by EON Jewellery

Emulating a satin scarf that would sit well on the Hollywood star, Liz, the yellow gold necklace gently wraps the graduating rubies in its folds – each drop-shaped faceted gem is enveloped by diamonds on one side and golden layers on the other.

Designed by Shruti Kumari

Manufactured by Manoj Ornaments Pvt. Ltd.

Embodying the glamour of Liz Taylor, the oversized rose gold ring creates a 'Magic Moment'; dressed in rubies, pink sapphires, diamonds, amethyst and opal, the ring shaped like a wing has a universal appeal.

Designed by Rabin Mondal

Manufactured by La Marquise Jewellery

The white gold pendant-cum-brooch evokes the glitz and glamour of Liz's life. The bejewelled piece spotlights on emerald, her favourite gemstone, while the spiral twists and turns set in diamonds are dotted with seven lustrous pearls, representing her husbands.

Designed by Shariful Mollik
Manufactured by La Marquise Jewellery

Taking a cue from the film Cat On a Hot Tin Roof, Liz's modernity was conveyed as much by her lines and her hairdo. The brooch-cum-hair ornament crafted in gold (micro-LED-fibre optics) showcases a delightful burst of gemstones and diamonds.

BARBARA HUTTON

Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton was the “Kim Kardashian” of the 1930s. Stylish and elegant, she was a famous jet-setting socialite of the 20th century with a jewellery collection that matched up to her glamorous lifestyle. Her love for diamonds was legendary, and the jewels that she wore were fit for royalty. In fact, the jewellery she acquired from Cartier once belonged to a Russian Duchess, The Duchess Vladimir.

KEY WORDS FOR THIS ICON WERE

SOPHISTICATION | OPULENCE | RARITY
GLOBETROTTING | LAVISH

WALLIS SIMPSON

Wallis Simpson, the Duchess of Windsor believed in wearing expensive jewels. Using fashion as a shield to cover up her insecure feeling about her looks -- she believed she was "not a beautiful woman" -- she developed a trailblazing style that came to be associated with her.

One of her famous pieces is a 19-karat emerald and diamond ring which she wore in 1936 during her secret engagement with The Duke of Windsor, who abdicated his throne in order to marry the divorced Wallis. The inscription on the ring was "We Are Ours Now."

KEY WORDS FOR THIS ICON WERE

SHARP | WITTY | AHEAD-OF-TIME
INDIVIDUALISTIC | IMPECCABLE

Influenced by the famous flamingo brooch owned by the Duchess of Windsor, the Flamboyance brooch / pin is created with a modern-day twist. Saturated with rubies, pink and blue sapphires and diamonds, the brooch ends with gem-embellished tassels lending it a vintage flavour.
